Announcement: Change of pressure relief valve, MESSKO® MPREC

Dear Ladies and Gentlemen,

Within the scope of continuous product improvement, our product managers have further optimized the pressure relief valve type MESSKO® MPREC. In future, we will offer you a higher level of protection against water penetration with protection class IP66 instead of IP65.

The design, installation and function are compatible with the device you are familiar with, so that there is hardly any change for you during installation and use.

The changes for you: For deliveries from January 2023, you will find a new product number in the order documentation for the pressure relief valve.

The previous product number will only change in one position:

Enclosure protection	Versions with terminal box	Versions with cable glands
IP65 (discontinued)	685-xxxxxxx BO xx	685-xxxxxxx DR xx
IP66	685-xxxxxxx BP xx	685-xxxxxxx DS xx

- This change will minimally extend the length of the cable connection (approximately 7mm). This note must be observed accordingly and considered during installation.

Existing framework/supply contracts remain valid, and prices remain unchanged.

You would like to order a new product based on an old order? – No problem, our sales team will automatically convert the existing numbers into the new product numbers.

Please inform your purchasing department and your goods receiving department about the change so that your order documents can be successively adjusted and newly delivered MESSKO® MPREC can be correctly assigned. If you have any questions, please do not hesitate to contact your MR sales representative.
